

SPIDER CEILING LAMP 7 ARM

BY SERGE MOUILLE

Throughout the 1950s Mouille designed large, angular, insect-like wall mounted and standing lamps with several arms and smaller, more curved wall sconces. He worked to achieve a kinetic, sculptural aesthetic that evoked a sense of movement in space. He claimed his lighting fixtures were "a reaction to the Italian models, which were beginning to invade the market in 1950," and which he thought to be "too complicated."

This lamp with rotating heads on seven fixed arms is a statement as much as it is a ceiling lamp – one that will command the conversation.
